Rules:

1.1 General

- The PUBG Online administration reserves the exclusive right to decide outside or even against the rulebook in special cases to ensure fair play.

1.2 Conduct

- All players are asked to behave in a humane way towards other competitors, and to any member Unknown Player staff. If a player is found guilty of misconduct by an administrator, they may receive a penalty. Teams risk bans and expulsions from the Tournament Series for any and all misconduct, to be decided at BRASH sole discretion.

1.3 Competitive Rules

- Every team must read, understand and agree to the rules for participation in the Unknown Player Series. Players must agree and consent to these rules, as well as BRASH authority to enforce them, as a condition of their participation. Each player is therefore expected and required to abide by the rules, and any failure to follow them will result in punitive measures. Participation in our matches is considered agreement and consent to our rules.
- Each player may only use their own account.
- Each team must have one designated person who is eighteen (18) years of age or older, responsible for distributing any prizes. This can be the same player as the Team Captain or another person entirely.
- Teams must hold an appropriate name. Any team attempting to sign up for an event with a name deemed unsuitable will be asked to create a new team name in order to participate. The team name will be temporarily altered until a suitable name is found.
- If any player is experiencing a known bug they must contact an admin immediately. Failure to do so may result loss of points, temporary suspension, and/or indefinite ban.

- Each player shall use their best efforts to report any new bugs found immediately. Any player knowingly using one (1) or more bugs to their advantage will immediately disqualify their team from the match, day or event(s).
- Due to any possible technical issues with PUBG or its servers, games may be rescheduled or canceled at the Admins discretion.
- Servers will be restarted for 4 or more players from different teams not making it into the server or multiple players from the same team not making it into the server.
- Servers will be restarted if the settings of the game are incorrect.
- Cheating is strictly prohibited. No player should be manipulating game files, using unapproved game modifications, or any other method by which one may gain an unfair advantage over another player. Determination of cheating will be determined by BRASH BattlEye and BlueHole, with rare exception when applicable.
- Using game mechanics that affects the integrity of competitive play will be prohibited.
  - Excessive tanking the blue, healing in the blue for the majority of the game without attempting to enter the circle, determined by admins.
- If any player is found using banned software, scripts, macros, etc., during competitive play, all games that were affected due to cheats will be subject to forfeiture and other potential penalties, i.e. loss of points, temporary suspension, indefinite bans, etc.
- If any player owns an account with a Playerunknown's Battlegrounds game ban either by BattlEye or by a manual ban, this player will not be allowed in any BRASH events indefinitely.
- A player is defined by someone who has actually played in a match, and NOT defined by the players who have been signed up.

1.4 Streaming

- All Unknown Player Tournaments or qualifying matches are allowed to be streamed at the player's discretion. Players should take potential stream sniping into consideration and plan accordingly. A minimum stream delay of 180 seconds (3 minutes) is required while streaming.

1.5 Conclusion

- All rules are subject to change at any time without notice. If you find any errors and/or mistakes please message Management@brashesports.eu
